

Sandy Opens Eighth New Park in Five Years

Close to 60 acres dedicated to open space

Union Park is the newest of eight additions in five years to Sandy's growing park system. The park was officially dedicated on Sept. 8. The 4.5 acre park is located at 7800 South 642 East and includes an outdoor pavilion available through reservations, three tables, restrooms, a quarter-mile walking trail and a two-acre sport field.

One of the major goals for Sandy City's council and administration is to acquire and develop land for residents to be used as parks, trails and open space.

Other parks that have been opened include:

Creekside Park – 9400 South Basin Street

One of Sandy's smallest parks with only 1.3 acres. Includes a playground and picnic table for the family to enjoy.

Quarry Bend Park –
9020 Quarry Bend Parkway

Located in the heart of Sandy with a total of eight acres and a paved walking trail stretching 1.7 miles, this park allows the busy resident quick access to the baseball diamond, pavilion (available by reservation) and playground.

Off-Leash Dog Park –

9980 South 300 East

A popular amenity! One acre of fenced, open grass for you and your pet to enjoy.

Amphitheater Park – 9400 South 1300 East

Located on the west side of the Sandy Amphitheater, this park contains 16 acres with a paved .75 mile trail, a pavilion (available by reservation) and a playground.

Promenade Wetlands – 10225 Centennial Parkway

An educational opportunity located in the heart of Sandy's commercial district on the south side of the Sandy Promenade. A boardwalk provides access to a look out and signs explaining the natural wetlands and its inhabitants. The site contains an amphitheater (lower right on picture) for students to use while enjoying the feature.

Neff's Grove – 10250 South State Street

Nestled in the heart of Sandy's commercial district, Neff's Grove preserves days of old when the Pony Express made its stop in Sandy. This quiet getaway has picnic tables and a great view of the mountains.

Sandy Urban Fishery – 9800 South 1000 West

A true multi-purpose park that caters to the beginner or seasoned fisherman, a quarter-mile trail, pavilion (available by reservation) and playground.

October is National Domestic Violence Awareness Month

As part of National Domestic Violence Awareness Month, Sandy City is hosting an event on Sept. 28, 2010 at 11:00 am. on the south side of Sandy City Hall to help create awareness of domestic violence. The event will include a special message from Sandy City Police Chief Stephen Chapman along with a release of balloons. Each balloon represents a victim of domestic violence assault in Sandy City. The police department is hosting a poetry contest with middle and high school students titled, "A World without Abuse." The two winners of the contest will be reading their poems.

Domestic violence is something that occurs every day, in every city regardless of a person's economic status, religion or race. Domestic violence is about power, control, domination and fear. It is the act of one person attempting to gain power and control over another person that they have or had a relationship with by using physical violence, sexual violence, threats, harassment and/or stalking. Domestic violence is a crime! Victims of domestic violence can face many barriers that can make it difficult to get help or leave the relationship.

How can you as a citizen help make a difference in stopping domestic violence? The first step in helping is to recognize that domestic violence occurs every day and can happen to anyone, including friends and family. If you see or hear violence of any type, please call 9-1-1. If there is someone you know that is being abused, let them know that help is available if they want it. Utah has several domestic violence shelters, victim advocates, and hotlines available for victims of abuse. These include:

Utah Domestic Violence Council
www.udvc.org or 1-800-897-LINK (5465)
Information Line
www.211.ut.org or 2-1-1
Sandy City's Victim Advocate
801-568-4627
Sandy City Crisis-Line
801-568-6099

Most importantly, be patient with your loved one and be there even if they choose at this time not to leave the relationship. To learn more about how you can help victims of domestic violence or to get more involved in the community as a volunteer for domestic violence, please contact Vickie Bushman at 801-568-4627 or vbushman@sandy.utah.gov.

Door to Door Solicitors

Door to door soliciting has been a popular way of doing business for years. The city receives many complaints every year about the legitimacy of these groups and questions pertaining to business licenses for these organizations. Below are a few of the most frequently asked questions:

When you have a solicitor at your door, do you have the right to see the city-issued business license to make sure they are legitimate? Yes. Persons going door to door in Sandy must carry a Sandy City business license which describes the business, the location for base of operation, the expiration date, the name of the person doing the soliciting and the company they represent. Neighbors or other groups soliciting for charitable donations must also be registered with the Utah Department of Consumer Protection that can be reached by calling 801-530-6601.

Can anyone obtain a business license? Yes. The business or organization must register under a business name, also known as a DBA (Doing Business As). The license holder does not need to be a charitable or a non-profit agency to solicit funds or to donate a portion of their funds from sales by going door to door. The name of the business may not reflect what is being represented. It is legal to conduct business under any name that is registered with the State of Utah.

Are some groups exempt from needing a city-issued license? Yes. There are groups that are exempt from needing a license, including the Boy/Girl Scouts and official school fund raisers.

What do I do if I have further questions? Please contact the Sandy City Business License Office at 801-568-7252 to verify a local business license. If you are concerned about a solicitor being rude, offensive, unlicensed or trespassing after you have clearly displayed a "No Soliciting" sign, you should contact the police non-emergency dispatch at 801-840-4000.

Are there any rules or regulations for a "No Soliciting" sign? No. There are no regulations in place on the material or size of the sign. Something very simple from your home computer will suffice. The sign should be displayed in a visible area for visitors.

If you have additional questions, please contact the business license office at 801-568-7252 or buslic@sandy.utah.gov.
